New to the position of Mayor, but not new to Fairview, Lloyd Campbell grew up on 105th Avenue in the home of his parents, Ron and Molly Campbell. Lloyd, Samantha and their two sons Tucker and Cooper now live in their home next to the old family residence, where Molly Campbell still resides.

In his growing years, Lloyd participated in Cubs, Scouts, Minor Hockey, Swim Team and all the other activities he and the neighboring Klemchuk kids could find. After completing high school at FHS, Lloyd worked at/with various businesses, including All Season Sports Centre, Big North Sports, Century 21 Real Estate, Ram Motors and Fairview Post. In Summer of '92 Lloyd took over as Manager of the Fairview Golf Club, a position he held until the Fall of '96. That same year, Lloyd went to work for Roy Northern Land Service as a land agent, remaining with the firm until 2002. The bright lights of the city called to Lloyd and Sam, so they moved to Edmonton for two years, continuing in the land agent field. However, feeling the pull of the Peace Country, they relocated to Grande Prairie, where Lloyd worked for Devon Canada. In 2006 the family moved back to Fairview to build a new home. Lloyd continued his career as a land agent, working for various clients including Sharp Environmental.

Lloyd's interests have included recreation hockey, golf, Kinsmen, Rotary, Ducks Unlimited (3 years as Provincial Chairman), and most recently, municipal politics. Now with a family of four, Lloyd felt it was time to "give back" by becoming involved in the future and shaping of Fairview.

Mayor Lloyd Campbell's priorities include the health care system, growth, smart development and maintaining Fairview as a place people are proud to call "home". He will welcome your calls and visits at the office to discuss your priorities and goals regarding the day-to-day operations and future plans for Fairview.

Councillor Tim Schindel: Ready to Serve

Tim grew up in a large family on a mixed farm of grain and cattle in central Saskatchewan. Upon finishing high school he moved to Regina and completed his business degree at the University of Regina. He immediately began his career with the Royal Bank which has now involved seven different locations and positions over a period of 19 years. Tim has been married to his wife Rhonda for 18 years. She works part-time as an LPN at the Fairview Hospital, as well as home care. They have three children, Whitney 17, Breanna 14, and Hunter, 10.

The family has lived in a number of various sized communities, some having more and different things to offer than others, but they discovered Fairview had many qualities having significant appeal to them. They ultimately fell in love with the small town friendliness, great recreation opportunities, cleanliness, a strong church community and a solid business and agricultural base as well as many quality public services, such as, a local RCMP Detachment, Fire Dept., Hospital and clinic. Having lived in other comparatively populated communities without these services or of the quality of Fairview's, they truly feel blessed to live here. They have come to know many people here over the past seven years, but there are also many they have yet to meet. Tim says "This is the community that my family and I love and want to see flourish even further. With my experience in business and having lived in other locations, I feel I will be able to positively contribute to the community during my time on council".

A FISHY STORY

The Town of Fairview, together with Alberta Sustainable Resources, Fish & Wildlife and the Alberta Conservation Association, is considering options for the future of Cummings Lake Fishery. Originally intended for Trout, the lake has become overrun by Perch. While some fisherman enjoy the Perch, the majority prefer Trout and the number of people fishing has declined. To bring the lake back to a Trout fishery, a total fish-kill may be required. That would mean relocating or losing the grass carp, which the Town of Fairview purchased to deal with the weed growth problem.

Council has asked for input from the public, especially those who fish the lake, as to how this should be handled. Should the lake be left as is, saving the grass carp but establishing a permanent perch fishery, or should a major undertaking be taken to drain and have winter-kill of all remaining species; then re-establish the Trout fishery. This could take a year or two to complete. You tell us! Call, email, write or stop in the office to express your opinions.
